EASY FOR THE MUSKETEER:

WITH SHAW UP. MRS. PARRELL'S COLT WINS THE GLEN COVE HANDICAP.

Brigadier Defeats May W. and Wax Taper in Good Time—Prophetic, Pulled Up at the Port by Michaela, Is Boaton a Hoad by Mri —Four Favorites in Front at Brighton Boach Four favorites were victorious at Brighton

Reach track yesterday, and Willie Shaw rode three winners. There were two events of more than ordinary interest, the Glen Cove Handicap for three-year-olds at three-quar-ters of a mile, in which The Musketeer corrailed the money, and the meeting between August Belmont's Brigadier and the popular Cardiemas colt, Wax Taper, the latter being essily beaton.
The Glen Cove Handicap was the fourth event of the day, and the Musketeer opened to 5 favorite. Isia, with Spencer riding three pounds overweight, was first chalked up at 5 to 2, but there was a good play on him which somewhat offset the general rush The Musketeer, with Shaw in the saddle. up at 13 to 3. Tower of Candles, in well with of pounds, was broken from fours to threes, while Bedeck went begging at nines and Rappenecker was completely ignored at from the barrier, with Tower of Candles as runner-up for five furiongs. Then Isla mared into the place, but though Spencer went to the whip with vigor, Shaw rode home an easy winner by a length. Isia was a length and a half better than Rappensoker. Brigadier and Wax Taper came together in the last race of the afternoon. The distance was three-quarters of a mile and ten-harses were scratched, leaving Brigadier, Wax Taper, May W. and Handwork. With O'Conner on Brigadier and Burns to ride Wax Taper, the layers at first quoted 7 to 5 against each. The talent cared so much for Mr. Belmont's gelding that he soon ruled an even money favorite, while the Candlesevens and Handwork, with Shaw up, was at tens. May W., ridden by Odom, out out the pace from the start. She maintained a lead of a length over Handwork for half a mile. Handwork, meanwhile, stayed in front of Brigadier, with Wax Taper a a mile. Handwork, meanwhile, stayed in front of Brigadier, with Wax Taper a length back. When they had rounded the turn and Wax Taper had begun a gallant but inefrectual run to overhaul his rivals, Brigadier turned out to be a whiriwind of so much velocity that nothing could stop him. May W., though passed by the Rayon d'Or geiding with comparative case, hung on gamely all the way home. Wax Taper, coming fast on the outside, was not equal to the task and as Brigadier galloped in an easy winner by two lengths, May W. succeeded in holding onto the place by a head, with Wax Taper third. The time, 1:12 4-5, was three-lifths of a second slower than voter's record for the track.

There was a disappointing upset for the talent in the third race. With eleven starters, the form players figured only four to have chances. Prophetic went to the post a 2 to 1 favorite and heavily backed all over the ring. Ascension and Zirl were at 7 to 2, with Belle of Milford, Shaw having the leg crowd let loose a roar of disapproval as Prophetic was seen to be left standing still. Michaels, however, got the Kingston filly going and though several lengths back of the field she began an uphill fight that was a beauty to look at. Zirl was leading by eight lengths at the time, with Step Onward, So to 1, and Lady Sterling, to 1, close together and leading the others. Suddenly Prophetic shot out of the bunch with a world of speed and set sail after Zirl. The crowd went into hysperics as Mr. Keene's filly overhauled Zirl with every jump, but Cochran drew his whip when he realized the nearness of danger and in a fierce drive he landed Zirl winner by a head, Prophetic beating Montana Pioneer 40 to 1, by a length and a half.

When Starter Fitzgerald got back from his post he week, Michaels could give no explanation of his act and was apparently deservedly punished.

There were twelve to go in the first race, a selling event for two-year-olds at five furlongs. Lady Radnor, handled by Shaw, was created a 7 to 5 favorits and she made good by leading out, by a neck from Oclawaha, 18 to 5, second choice. Neither One 5 to 1, was four lengths back. In the second race, a steeplechase at about two miles, Charagrace was made an odds-on favorite at 7 to 10. At the first jump Charagrace ran out and that settled him Musician, 40 to 1, fell, so that the field was reduced to five jumpers. Mystic Shriner, 8 to 1, was the winner by three lengths, Eophone, 10 to 1, beating Magio Light, second choice, a head for the place.

"Pittsburg Phil's" recently purchased Latson, with Shaw in the stirrups, was the pick for the fifth race, a selling affair for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and an eighth. Though Latson got away last and trailed his field to the turn, where Fonsolee was a neck better than Whistling Con, 50 to 1. Shaw got him through with a rush and riving him hard all the way down the stretch won by three parts of a length from Lady Chorister, 25 to 1. Summaries:

IMPROVEMENTS AT AQUEDUCT.

New Grand Stand and an Enlarged Betting Ring to Be Built at Once.

President Rellly of the Queens County Jookey Club, was at Brighton yesterday and announced that the accommodations at Aqueduct would be greatly improved in time for the fall meeting. The present grandstand for the fall meeting. The present grandstand will be torn down and a new wood structure much larger than the old one, will be built. The betting ring and club house will be enlarged too, and the main entrance will be located directly in the rear of the grand stand, thus doing away with the long walk from the realized station.

President Reilly evidently feels confident that the talk of new race tracks does not mean that Aqueduct will be harmed in any way. He says that the track will be so improved that it will compare favorably with any of the others in the local circuit.

"Tenny" Burgess, the steeplechase jookey who was killed at Gravesend track on Saturday while working a green jumper, was buried yesterday at Holy Cross Cemetery. While he was lying dead at the track, the Chantilly Stakes was decided at Brighton Beach. Just a year ago Burgess won this steeplechase event with Nicholas Johnson's Hardy C.-a peculiar coincidence.

At Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Hawthorne opened with a large crowd and a day of fatalities. Three horses fell in the second race, for two-year olds, and Jockeys Munro and Boyd were injured, the latter seriously. Then in the steeplechase the favorite, Filon D'Or, fell at the first jump and Ellison, his jockey, sustained a sprained leg. At the last obstacle Mano turned a somersault and appeared to fall heavily on Jockey floyd. Lloyd was practically unhurt. Aside from the accidents the features were the Prairie Stakes, which went to Cambrian, the favorite and the handicap, which Robert Waddell won from start to finish, beating Maley a neck in a furious drive. At St. Louis.

At St. Louis.

St. Louis. July 22.—Bilistering hot weather out down the attendance at Delmar to-day. Jockey Houck was fined $25 and refused permission to finish his mounts. His impertinence to the judges will doubtless cause suspension. Lunar, a 13 to 1 shot, won the fourth event very handly and gave evidence of possessing stake qualifications. Bruiare ran a nice race in the sixth event. Ventura was pinched out at the three-eighths pole. Summaries:

Six games were played in the two big leagues yesterday and every one of the six and lost by one run. The two National League games were decided by that margin, St. Louis beating Chicago and Philadelphia winning from Boston. The other National League teams did not have games scheduled. There were two twelve-inning games in the American League, the sufferers in the prolonged struggles being the Chicagos and Bostons, who were beaten by Philadelphia and Detroit respectively. The Milwaukees and Cleveland defeated Washington. The National League results and standing follow: Philadelphia, 3; Boston, 2.

Five Remarkably Good Bounds -- Progra of the Shinnecock Hills Club Private Tour-nament —John Hall, Jr., Back in England -Seabright Defeats Monmouth Beach. Willie Anderson's record of 86 for the Montclair Golf Club links after standing for three weeks was cut down a stroke by T. T. Beid. captain of the club, in a match on Saturday morning with H. K. J. Williams and in the afternoon playing with the same gentleman.

The playing length of the Montolair links is 6,056 yards and Reid's record was the crowning endeavor of three days, when all indications proved that he was on his best game. On Friday, playing with Paul Wilcox, Prestdent of the club, Reid won by 1 up, going out in 41 and corning in in 44, the 87 being the best score by an amateur to that time. On Saturday morning in a four-ball match with W. B. Marcus against Wilcox and W. T. Cross, Reid scored 40.47-47, and in the afternoon, in a repetition of the match, he made 42, 46-88. It will be noted that in the five consecutive rounds. Reid secured the remarkable showing of three 87s, an 88 and an 85.

Andrew Carnegie has presented a princely trophy to the Dornach Golf Club, Scotland, for competition among the members. It is in the form of a Scottish shield, in sterling silver, richly chased with Celtic ornament, and surmounted with the American and Scottish flags enamelied in colors. The centre subject is copied from the famous picture "Charles I. Receiving News of the Irish Rebellion While Alaying Golf on Leith Links," by Sir John Gilbert. Panels on the shield show Skibo Castla, the Rishop's Palace, the Cathedral, and a view of Dornach. The Scottish lion and the American eagle are displayed on four medallions enamelied in heraldio colors.

LAKE CHAMPLAIN, July 22—In the handicap at the Champlain Golf Club to-day W. E. Burlock, Jr., won the first prize. C. E. Johnson, the scratch man, who had won the two previous tournaments, was second. The scores were:

RUSHING WORK ON INDEPENDENCE.

Crowninsheld and Capt. Hank Haff arrived at the shipyard this afternoon after spendills. Ing Sunday at their respective homes. Mr. Clapp said the work on the Independence was progressing satisfactory, but there will be much work on the sloop before she sails for Newport. A new suit of light headsails has been ordered and the work of bending will be begun as soon as the sails arrive. These will probably cause shortening of the headgear, as they will be smaller than the sails used in the Newport races.

The New York Yacht Club's fleet is scheduled to arrive here on Thursday and start for Newport on Friday, but it is doubtful if the Independence will be in trim by that time to accompany the fleet on their cruise. The Boston boat will be on exhibition here, however, and the hundreds of the New York feet will receive an excellent chance to view Mr. Lawson's boat.

John Forsyth, superintendent of the Thames Towboat Company's shipyard, where the Independence is hauled out, was walking under the cradle this afternoon when he stepped upon a loose plank and fell through the platform hatchway. He landed on his head and shoulder among the stone ballast, seven feet below, and was rescued in Insemble condition by some of the Independence and the stone ballast, seven feet below, and was rescued in Insemble condition by some of the Independence open lawn tennis tournament came to an end here this afternoon with the playing of the challenge match for the cup between Dwight Davis and J. P. Paret. By far the biggest crowd of the week was present and the quality of the play was very much better than in any of the earlier matches. It was Davis's first appearance since his trip abroad play had been affected by his experience with the Englishmen. He was visibly neryous at first and did not show his full strength until toward the end of the match. Paret showed the best play he has developed at any time this season. but the best he could do was to get the second set and force Davis close in the first. The third and fourth set were both comparatively easy for Davis and his killing strokes were wonderful at Paret's service worried the big Harvard man, and as it was kept almost constantly on his weaker back-hand side, Davis lost many points by errors, for he refused to shirk his work and kept steadily trying for when the ball was reached above the shoulder was grand and he killed almost every lob that Paret put up, except a few times when the latter caught him too far forward and lobbed over his head for clean aces. His ground strokes were more severe and more langerously risky than ever before, but his low volleying was too slow and most of the time defensive.

On the whole, Davis made a favorable im-On the whole, Davis made a layouthly appression and seems to have improved by his visit abroad. He will play to-morrow at Longwood and will have to meet the strongest players in the country this week, when a better line can be had on his skill. His victory over Paret to-day gave him permanent possession of the Magnolia Challenge cup, as it was his third successive win for the trophy. Summary follows:

Garden Track. Some very indifferent racing was watched by about a thousand perspiring spectators at Madison Square Garden last night. The feature event was a fifteen-mile paced race Walthour of Atlanta and Taylore, the middle-distance champion of France, but this proved to be a very easy thing for Walthour, who won by 1814 laps. In behalf of Taylore it was explained beforehand that he has been suffering for some time from a malarial fever contracted in South America. Things began to go wrong before the race, when one of Walthour's up. The men started from a standstill at th
